Manitoba Won't Back Ontario At Conference

Members of the union's national executive committee, representing all the Packinghouse Workers local unions voted unanimously against going back to work for the government without wage increases. The union represents nearly 200,000 workers in meat plants from coast to coast.

Visiting City

Street Railway Transfer Plan Gets Approval

The policy of issuing street railway transfers which has been in operation since Wednesday, is meeting with the approval of patrons of the system, but there are a great many passengers who do not ask for their transfers when they enter the street car.

IT IS ESSENTIAL, stated Thomas Ferrier, street railway superintendent, that the transfer be asked for when boarding street cars or trolley buses. He said that in the opening days of the change-over, conductors have issued transfers when they were requested by passengers, but this practice will be discontinued when patrons become fully acquainted with the "get your transfer as you enter policy."

Points at which transfers will be collected remain as at present, with an additional point at 101 street and 102 avenue where transfers will be accepted from trolley coaches and buses to north-bound street cars, and from south-bound street cars to trolley coaches and buses.

IN THE CASE OF OWL car service all transfers will be accepted, and if necessary, re-issued to passengers at 101 street and Jasper avenue.

Transfers issued on a Blue or Blue and White car from east or west to low level trolley coach will be re-issued by the coach operator upon request to Bonnie Doon at 76 avenue only, and a transfer issued on a 25 street or Highlands coach from the east may be re-issued to Bonnie Doon, 76 avenue or west of 104 street on 82 avenue.

Passengers boarding a trolley coach at 104 street and 82 avenue will be entitled to transfer east or west at 100 street and Jasper or north at 101 street and 102 avenue and passengers from 76 avenue boarding a trolley coach at 104 street and 82 avenue may have his or her transfer re-issued to Bonnie Doon east or west at 100 street and Jasper avenue.

Transfers at 101 street and 101 street northbound may be re-issued at 95 street and 111 avenue southbound. No further transfer will be issued. A transfer issued for 101 street at 111 avenue and 97 street may be re-issued for 107 avenue only.

A transfer from 102 avenue northbound may be re-issued at 107 avenue and 124 street and 111 avenue and 124 street, and a transfer from Bonnie Doon at 99 street and 82 avenue to low level may be re-issued east or west at 100 street and Jasper avenue or north at 101 street and 102 avenue.

Patrons are requested to keep their transfers clean and unfolded. A folded or crumpled-up transfer handed to the operator wastes time and defeats the object of the change, which is intended to help speed-up the street railway service.

Propose Definite Land Sale Policy

Adoption of the principle of refusing to sell city-owned property for any other purpose than that which the particular property has been zoned will be recommended by the bylaws committee to the city council.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS Thursday made this recommendation after study of a request from the Town Planning Commission that a definite land sales policy be established so that zoning principles adopted cannot be defeated. Under the proposed recommendation the city will adopt a policy of refusing to sell property classified as local business district for any other purpose than local business, in three-story business, and in general business districts for the erection of one and two family dwellings, and in light industrial and heavy industrial districts for any purely residential use.

The ROAD AHEAD

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

The suggestion made recently in Winnipeg by H. C. Nicholls, of Toronto, president of the Canadian Construction Association, individuals who require shelter should solve their own problem is surprising, to say the least. It is surprising because it would seem to indicate that this well known figure in the construction business seems to have kept himself in blissful ignorance of conditions in Canada. This is, unfortunately, a state in which many of our best people seem to move continually.

What's Your Hurry? Drive Safely...
Drive to avoid accidents of any kind. Give pedestrians plenty of time to cross the street, especially where they are slippery. And pedestrians will avoid running into trouble if they will only look for traffic and give motorists the right-of-way unless they have plenty of time to cross the road in perfect safety.

ROAD REPORTS
Roads are OK at Athabasca, Grande Prairie, Edmonton, Chertsey, Burnhead, Lac la Poudre, Two Hills, St. Paul, Wainwright, Camrose and Thorburn; heavy at Slave Lake; rough at High Prairie; very heavy at Peace River; drifted at Fairview, Beaveridge and Fort St. John; badly drifted at Dawson Creek.

Plan to Revise Poll Boundaries

A special committee of three will be appointed by city council to study revision of municipal poll boundaries and other matters relating to civic elections, if a recommendation of the bylaws committee is accepted by city council.

THE RECOMMENDATION for the creation of the three-man committee was made at the suggestion of the city commissioners. In a report to the committee it was stated that the city solicitor and the city assessor had poll boundary changes suggested by the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce, and it was considered necessary to further study this matter before definite recommendations of changes are made.

The commissioners also suggested that the proposed committee would hear representations from the junior chamber of commerce, and other interested organizations relative to changes in the municipal election set-up.

Shortly prior to the November municipal elections, the Junior Chamber of Commerce made representations to city council seeking the adoption of the provisions of Dominion poll boundaries in municipal elections.

Employment Slump Normal in Alberta

Closing of war industries and the discharge of troops during Alberta's normal slack employment season Thursday were seen as factors in the growing unemployment facing the province, but officials of the Edmonton office of NES wing to the nature of the climate Alberta's largest basic industries are seasonal. Farming, mining, oil industry, lumbering and construction are all affected by weather it was pointed out.

ALTHOUGH A NUMBER of men, exact figures were not available, are seeking employment on farms at the present moment few farm jobs are available in Alberta. For several years the NES has been enlisting the aid of farmers in carrying out their wintering plans, especially lumbering during winter months, and it will take some time for these farmers to start employing when not long ago they themselves were employed, officials felt.

THE NES is looking for men to employ in woods operations especially in Northern Alberta but many of the jobs open require experience.

A SIMILAR SITUATION arises in the mining industry. Men with mining certificates are needed to work on the face of the coal. Here again more labor could be employed if the trained or experienced men were available for the more intricate operations.

The Inquiring Reporter

Do you think foreign observers should be permitted to witness tests to be made by the United States Navy with atomic bombs on naval craft next spring?

THE ANSWERS
F. SYKES, traveller: I think it would be very wise to permit all members of the United Nations to have representatives there and even some Germans. If the bombs prove as totally destructive as seems likely, what an object lesson for any potential aggressor.

W. RICHARDSON, war veteran: It seems to me the U.S. Navy has a right to keep results of its own tests a secret. I think by this method warning nations would be worried to the point of thinking deeply before they start wars.

B. SALTE, agent: It would seem that under the atomic energy control agreement all members of the United Nations have the right to have representatives at the tests.

Air Force Wives at Churchill Give Tips on Going North

CHURCHILL, Man., Jan. 25.

(CP)—Three air force wives who followed their husbands to Churchill in spite of everything have one tip for girls with the same idea—don't come north if you're super-sophisticated and can't stand a few hardships.

"It's a life but it's not as bad as you think," said Miss Irene Macdonald, 25-year-old Winnipeg girl who engineered the Churchill trip when she heard her husband, P.O. Don Macdonald, of Ottawa and Winnipeg, was bound for this muskox jumping-off point.

With 23-year-old Kay George, the only other "muskox bride" from the Alberta-Saskatchewan border town of Lloydminster, and Lois Parlow, 25, of Winnipeg, Mrs. Macdonald arrived here Jan. 13 after a "pretty grim" 31-day rail way trip from Winnipeg.

The three girls are established in small single rooms at the only hotel in this settlement of 128 persons on the frozen shore of Hudson Bay. Except for the weekly "do" at the muskox camp, 45 miles from Churchill, "when we really go berserk" the girls spend most of their time playing knock rummy, knitting with the handful of wool they can obtain here and sweeping corners.

92-Year-Old Gives Tips on Long Life
TORONTO, Jan. 25.—(CP)—More persons would reach their 100th birthday if they were not so fond of the "wild bright life." This advice comes from Mrs. Francis Hickey, 92, who said Thursday she feels "as young as I did when I was 20."

Mrs. Hickey temporarily in hospital with a fractured hip, said she has never been laid up before, and she attributed this to the "wild bright life" of her whole life.

Widow of Charles Riddle, pioneer petroleum physician, she has outlived three husbands. She says she thinks danger is in being too good for people "provided they don't dance all night... but girls smoking and drinking, that is one of the bad things of the modern age."

Want to shorten the length of your hair? You can do this by beauty trick. A touch, just a touch, of rouge on your chin. Choose a shade of pink, blend until there is just a faint rosy shadow. This easy trick will aid you in camouflaging an over-ample chin. Thus—you fool "your public!"

Elizabeth Woodward Says...
YOUR PARENTS BLOCK YOUR EXIT

So your parents have put their foot down. The Sweet Shoppe is no place for a daughter of theirs... and you can't go, ever again. The dances at 100... they hear something about that last one... rumor had it ready... so now you can only your brother and sister. The dancing is the howling ally... never mind what they heard, they say... it wasn't good. Maybe your crowd does go there... those places must be all right for some girls. But if you don't have sense enough to protect your own reputation, they'll see that you're wrecked. They'll just keep you home.

Pup Mom may know what they're talking about. They may have heard some tales that are true. And you can blame them for saying they must stay away. So don't fly off the handle the moment they begin to lay down the law. Listen to the parental patter. Maybe the new way say you can't frequent are really not nice enough for your patronage.

But MAYBE your parents are talking through their hat. Maybe they're believing tales told by some other girl who talks through hers. So you ought to set them straight. Maybe your crowd is noisy... but he doesn't call out the marines. Your gang has hilarious fun at the place you hang out. So plan a party or a couple of parties... and take your brother and sister on a night trip out of the place you hang out.

Step in at the Sweet Shoppe. Bring a mate with the family. Introduce them to Ben the proprietor. Tell him you're the new crowd. Tell him you're the new crowd. Tell him you're the new crowd.

YOUR PARENTS BLOCK YOUR EXIT

So your parents have put their foot down. The Sweet Shoppe is no place for a daughter of theirs... and you can't go, ever again. The dances at 100... they hear something about that last one... rumor had it ready... so now you can only your brother and sister. The dancing is the howling ally... never mind what they heard, they say... it wasn't good. Maybe your crowd does go there... those places must be all right for some girls. But if you don't have sense enough to protect your own reputation, they'll see that you're wrecked. They'll just keep you home.

Pup Mom may know what they're talking about. They may have heard some tales that are true. And you can blame them for saying they must stay away. So don't fly off the handle the moment they begin to lay down the law. Listen to the parental patter. Maybe the new way say you can't frequent are really not nice enough for your patronage.

But MAYBE your parents are talking through their hat. Maybe they're believing tales told by some other girl who talks through hers. So you ought to set them straight. Maybe your crowd is noisy... but he doesn't call out the marines. Your gang has hilarious fun at the place you hang out. So plan a party or a couple of parties... and take your brother and sister on a night trip out of the place you hang out.

Authors Hear Robert White

Former corporal with the British army, Robert White, was guest speaker at the January meeting of the Canadian Authors Association, Edmonton branch, held at the home of Mr. W. J. Tipton Monday.

Speaking of his experiences in the branch with 25 books by Canadian Authors since 1928, he gave a vivid description of the conditions in the field, flora and fauna and the rainfall of 125 inches per year. Mr. A. E. Cooke thanked him for his interesting talk.

Mrs. R. A. Scoville called attention to the three standard books, "Emily Murray, Crusader," A. L. Macpherson, that the book be purchased as a nucleus for a branch library.

Mrs. Scoville presented a book to be handed over as soon as possible to the Young Women's Missionary Society. The members requested that she autograph these books.

100 Women Attend 20th Annual Presbytery
More than 100 women attended the opening morning session of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, held all day Friday in Robertson United church.

Harrie Chisholm, assistant general secretary of the student Christian movement in Canada, who recently returned from overseas; G. F. Bruce of Edmonton, formerly of Manitoba, and Rev. T. R. Davies of Highlands United church, who has just recently returned from overseas after several years of service as padre with the troops in England.

Anniversary Dinner Speaker Declares:

Burns Carries Ringing Message To Empire and World at Peace

Robert Burns, simple but immortal bard of Scotland, who died at the age of 37, carries a ringing and vital message to an Empire and a world at peace for the first time in seven years, Murdoch A. Mac-

Pherson, K.C. of Regina, declared in his address at the annual anniversary dinner of the Edmonton Burns' Club in the Macdonald Theatre Sunday night.

REPLYING TO THE TOAST to "The Immortal Memory," the former attorney general of Saskatchewan said that the world could find no sounder formula for the seventy-seventh lasting peace than was laid down by the great master of Scottish verse, who himself yearned for the true brotherhood of men.

He deplored hypocrisy in politics, religion and personal relations and understood with an understanding seldom attained the great forces that motivate all men and women every age.

About 150 attended the anniversary dinner, which was the brightest and cheeriest held since the world was plunged into war in 1939. President S. J. Jamieson of the Edmonton Burns' Club presided and the beautiful songs of Old Scotland were featured on a delightful variety program.

BURNS THE SIMPLE but eloquent farm boy who lacked academic knowledge but had the admiration and warm esteem of the great poets of his day, Mr. MacPherson pointed out.

Among those who lavished praise on the great bard of Scotland were Pitt, the great British statesman of the age; Sir Walter Scott, Woods, Sir Walter Scott, and Alfred Lord Tennyson.

Burns had a strange tenderness for birds, beasts and flowers. He also had a burning contempt for the oppressor of the poor and the hypocrite, the speaker said.

HE POSSESSED the marvellous ability of "mingling laughter with tears" and was a true living poet whose works are timeless.

"What would a Burns of that being revealed at Nuremberg and the cruelties of Hong Kong?" the speaker asked, adding that he gave us a Burns in this day with its great problems and perplexities.

Many persons who know not a single line of Burns as poetry unconsciously use the words of Burns in every day life, so eloquently expressive of all human happenings are the immortal compositions of the great Scottish bard, he pointed out.

"WHERE WOULD YOU FIND more beautiful lines than in Highland Mary?"

"O pale, pale now those rosy lips I lay has kissed so fondly."

"And where is there more gallantry, more infectious gaiety and abandon than the lilting lines of 'Auld nature awakes, the lovely dears'."

Her nobility words she classes her 'gentle hand she tried on man. Ah! then she made the lassie."

"WHAT MORE TRULY are your thoughts and conceptions of free speech and free press than: 'Here's freedom to him than was read. Here's freedom to him that would write. There's nae ever feared than the truth should be heard. But they whom the truth was indite.'"

Then the fiery lines in Bruce's address to his army: "Wha for Scotland's king and law. Freedom's sword will strongly draw. Freeman stand or freeman fa', Let him follow me."

"There is a strong challenge for today in: 'Lay the proud usurpers low! Tyrants fall in every blow! Liberty's in every blow—Let us do or die!'"

BURNS HIMSELF, ALTHOUGH extremely and fearlessly critical of the governments of his day, was ever loyal when the safety of the state was threatened.

"These were the songs of Burns that moved our forefathers a century and a half ago and who established and bequeathed to us the principle that the force of argument."

Recalling the early days of the Hudson's Bay Company, a brief ceremony Thursday afternoon was witnessed by more than 100 interested Edmontonians when H. S. A. Johnson, HBC manager here, turned over to Paul Belanger, manager of the Whitehorse-to-Winnipeg dog derby, a letter to be delivered to the manager of the Winnipeg store. The letter will be taken with the dog team on the 800-mile overland trip. In the above photograph, Mr. Johnson, right, is seen handing the letter to Mr. Belanger. On the extreme left is Martha Pester, of the HBC staff. The huskies which have drawn the sled from its Whitehorse starting point ever since last Dec. 7, have attracted a great deal of attention here.

Land Inspectors, Appraisers Study Various Problems at Course Here

The Alberta farmer maintained his splendid production record during the war for patriotic reasons, but he was helped toward that by the establishment of floor prices for his products which gave him a sense of security, according to Dean D. B. Sinclair, University of Alberta, in the opening address of the second day of the eighth annual Land Inspectors' and Appraisers' course.

They should obtain aims rather than the argument of force. They inspired the theory of parliamentary government and the gift to mankind," Mr. MacPherson said.

"I PUT IT TO MYSELF and to you, are we jealously, eagerly and nervously guarding and safeguarding that legacy? Are we indeed truly our preparedness to sacrifice in order that it be maintained?"

Stating that we owe a great debt to our returning Canadian servicemen and women who gallantly faced the enemy during the threat to world freedom, the speaker warned against "much talk of pie in the sky" and thought the philosophy of war could be practical.

types, as well as the assessment of value of farms on which certain soil types prevailed.

DR. F. A. WYATT of the soil department of the university pointed out to the assessors that the location of land had a definite bearing in its valuation, since very fertile land, far removed from centres of distribution, was not as valuable to use as fertile soil close to a town or other centre.

Dr. W. E. Bowser spoke on the problem of Solonchaks soils, and pointed out that very little is known about them or about their formation except that they are unfertile due to chemical reactions which may be the result of glacial deposits of salts, or to other reasons. He was substituting in this lecture for William Odynsky of the Dominion department of agriculture.

DR. BOWSER shared the platform with the next lecture with R. L. Erdman, of the federal agricultural branch, in a discussion of soils in the proposed irrigation areas in Alberta. They paid particular attention to the land south of Coronation which it is planned to irrigate with the waters of the Saskatchewan and Red River rivers.

A handy guide by which appraisers could estimate the value of land was furnished by Dr. J. D. Newton, of the agriculture branch of the university, in his address which concluded the day's sessions at the college.

IN ASSESSING the value of land he divided the province into seven soil zones and then pointed out to the assessors many other factors which tend to affect the value of land. The qualities of its topography, as well as the type of soil area, must be considered which would be evaluated by the chart which Dr. Newton used to illustrate his lecture.

Chairman at the morning session was E. H. Carr, Calgary, while E. A. Rason presided in the afternoon.

The afternoon sessions of Thursday all centred around soils and the relative values of the different types.

$3,000 Damage As House Is Burned

Damage estimated at more than $3,000 was caused by fire which destroyed the home of Mrs. Annie Goyan, 5430 11th avenue early Friday morning. The blaze was discovered at 4 a.m. by Pte. Harvey Hilliard of Beverly.

Fire equipment from Halls 2, 5 and 7 responded to the alarm. Crews experienced difficulty in overcoming the blaze as the nearest hydrant was six blocks away, and the fire hose kept freezing. The interior of the house was completely burned with only the four walls left standing.

Mrs. Goyan left the city Thursday for Rich Valley. Her son Hector, 12, died Sunday night.

Former Edmonton Boy Fatally Hurt

Death came quickly to Harry Mosley, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mosley, formerly of Edmonton, when he was struck by an automobile while cycling near the new family home at Albion, B.C., Thursday, according to word received here by his sisters, Mrs. Kay McCartney, Clyde, and Marjorie Mosley, 1187 102 avenue.

The family disposed of their interests in Edmonton in May, 1945, and moved to the B.C. point. They are long-time residents of this district. Miss Mosley has left to attend her brother's funeral.

Mr. Mosley lives at 1412 11th avenue, left the house at midnight.
